Fiscal 2024 Fourth Quarter Results

- Total revenues were $1.9 billion, an increase of 17% from the fourth quarter of fiscal 2023. Subscription revenues were $1.8 billion, an increase of 18% from the same period last year.
- Operating income was $79 million, or 4.1% of revenues, compared to an operating loss of $89 million, or negative 5.4% of revenues, in the same period last year. Non-GAAP operating income for the fourth quarter was $461 million, or 23.9% of revenues, compared to a non-GAAP operating income of $305 million, or 18.5% of revenues, in the same period last year.<sup>1,2</sup>
- Basic and diluted net income per share was $4.52 and $4.42, respectively, compared to basic and diluted net loss per share of $0.49 in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2023. Non-GAAP basic and diluted net income per share was $1.60 and $1.57, respectively, compared to non-GAAP basic and diluted net income per share of $1.00 and $0.99, respectively, in the same period last year.<sup>2,3</sup> GAAP basic and diluted net income per share benefited from the $1.1 billion release of our valuation allowance related to all U.S. federal and state deferred tax assets, excluding certain state tax credits, in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2024.

Fiscal Year 2024 Results

- Total revenues were $7.3 billion, an increase of 17% from fiscal 2023. Subscription revenues were $6.6 billion, an increase of 19% from the prior year.
- Operating income was $183 million, or 2.5% of revenues, compared to an operating loss of $222 million, or negative 3.6% of revenues, in fiscal 2023. Non-GAAP operating income was $1.7 billion, or 24.0% of revenues, compared to a non-GAAP operating income of $1.2 billion, or 19.5% of revenues, in the prior year.<sup>1,2</sup>
- Basic and diluted net income per share was $5.28 and $5.21, respectively, compared to basic and diluted net loss per share of $1.44 in fiscal 2023. Non-GAAP basic and diluted net income per share was $5.93 and $5.84, respectively, compared to non-GAAP basic and diluted net income per share of $3.73 and $3.64, respectively, in the prior year.<sup>2,3</sup> As noted above, GAAP basic and diluted net income per share benefited from the $1.1 billion release of our valuation allowance related to all U.S. federal and state deferred tax assets, excluding certain state tax credits, in fiscal 2024.
- Total subscription revenue backlog was $20.9 billion, up 27% from the same period last year. 12-month subscription revenue backlog was $6.6 billion, and 24-month subscription revenue backlog was $11.7 billion, both increasing 20% year over year.
- Operating cash flows were $2.1 billion compared to $1.7 billion in the prior year. Free cash flows were $1.9 billion compared to $1.3 billion in the prior year.<sup>4</sup>
- Workday repurchased approximately 1.8 million shares of Class A common stock for $423 million as part of its share repurchase program.
- Cash, cash equivalents, and marketable securities were $7.8 billion as of January 31, 2024.

Comments on the News

"Workday's results this quarter are a testament to the strength of our value proposition and the durability of our business," said Carl Eschenbach, CEO, Workday. "We're seeing continued momentum with full platform customer wins and expansions within our base, strengthening international performance, growth of our partner ecosystem, and the seamless execution of nearly 19,000 Workmates across the globe – all setting us up for an incredible fiscal year 2025."

"Our relentless focus on innovation continues to fuel Workday's success while helping to enable our customers to transform how they manage their two most important assets – their people and money," said Aneel Bhusri, co-founder and executive chair, Workday. "As I step into my new role as executive chair, I look forward to working closely with Carl, the rest of our leadership team, and our product and technology organization to push the Workday platform to even greater heights and capitalize on the growth opportunity in front of us."

"Our fourth quarter and full-year fiscal 2024 results reflect the momentum building across our key investment initiatives," said Zane Rowe, CFO, Workday. "We are reiterating our fiscal year 2025 subscription revenue guidance of $7.725 billion to $7.775 billion, representing growth of 17% to 18%. We expect fiscal year 2025 non-GAAP operating margin of approximately 24.5%. Our outlook contemplates incremental investments to support enduring growth, while at the same time calls for continued margin expansion as we scale and optimize the business."

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Reconciliations of non-GAAP financial measures to Workday's financial results as determined in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles are included at the end of this press release following the accompanying financial tables. For a description of these non-GAAP financial measures, including the reasons management uses each measure, please see the section titled "About Non-GAAP Financial Measures." The Company has not provided a reconciliation of its forward outlook for non-GAAP operating margin with its forward-looking GAAP operating margin in reliance on the unreasonable efforts exception provided under Item 10(e)(1)(i)(B) of Regulation S-K. The Company is unable, without unreasonable efforts, to quantify share-based compensation expense, which is excluded from our non-GAAP operating margin, as it requires additional inputs such as the number of shares granted and market prices that are not ascertainable.

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains forward-looking statements including, among other things, statements regarding Workday's planned acquisition of HiredScore, Workday's partnership with Insperity and expected offerings, our intended share repurchases, Workday's full-year fiscal 2025 subscription revenues and non-GAAP operating margin, growth and expansion, momentum, demand, strategy, and investments. These forward-looking statements are based only on currently available information and our current beliefs, expectations, and assumptions. Because forward-looking statements relate to the future, they are subject to risks, uncertainties, assumptions, and changes in circumstances that are difficult to predict and many of which are outside of our control. If the risks materialize, assumptions prove incorrect, or we experience unexpected changes in circumstances, actual results could differ materially from the results implied by these forward-looking statements, and therefore you should not rely on any forward-looking statements. Risks include, but are not limited to: (i) breaches in our security measures or those of our third-party providers, unauthorized access to our customers' or other users' personal data, or disruptions in our data center or computing infrastructure operations; (ii) service outages, delays in the deployment of our applications, and the failure of our applications to perform properly; (iii) privacy concerns and evolving domestic or foreign laws and regulations; (iv) the impact of continuing global economic and geopolitical volatility on our business, as well as on our customers, prospects, partners, and service providers; (v) any loss of key employees or the inability to attract, train, and retain highly skilled employees; (vi) competitive factors, including pricing pressures, industry consolidation, entry of new competitors and new applications, advancements in technology, and marketing initiatives by our competitors; (vii) our reliance on our network of partners to drive additional growth of our revenues; (viii) the regulatory, economic, and political risks associated with our domestic and international operations; (ix) adoption of our applications and services by customers and individuals, including any new features, enhancements, and modifications, as well as our customers' and users' satisfaction with the deployment, training, and support services they receive; (x) the regulatory risks related to new and evolving technologies such as AI and our ability to realize a return on our development efforts; (xi) our ability to realize the expected business or financial benefits of any acquisitions of or investments in companies, including HiredScore; (xii) the risk that the HiredScore transaction may not be completed in a timely manner or at all; (xiii) negative effects of the announcement or consummation of the HiredScore transaction on Workday's business operations, operating results, or share price; (xiv) delays or reductions in information technology spending; and (xv) changes in sales, which may not be immediately reflected in our results due to our subscription model. Further information on these and additional risks that could affect Workday's results is included in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), including our most recent report on Form 10-Q or Form 10-K and other reports that we have filed and will file with the SEC from time to time, which could cause actual results to vary from expectations. Workday assumes no obligation to, and does not currently intend to, update any such forward-looking statements after the date of this release, except as required by law.

Any unreleased services, features, or functions referenced in this document, our website, or other press releases or public statements that are not currently available are subject to change at Workday's discretion and may not be delivered as planned or at all. (1) For the three months ended January 31, 2024, GAAP and non-GAAP net income per share were both calculated based upon 263,102 basic and 268,843 diluted weighted-average shares of common stock.

For the three months ended January 31, 2023, GAAP net loss per share was calculated based upon 257,322 basic and diluted weighted-average shares of common stock. Non-GAAP net income per share was calculated based upon 257,322 basic and 258,367 diluted weighted-average shares of common stock.

For the fiscal year ended January 31, 2024, GAAP and non-GAAP net income per share were both calculated based upon 261,344 basic and 265,285 diluted weighted-average shares of common stock.

For the fiscal year ended January 31, 2023, GAAP net loss per share was calculated based upon 254,819 basic and diluted weighted-average shares of common stock. Non-GAAP net income per share was calculated based upon 254,819 basic and 261,641 diluted weighted-average shares of common stock. The numerator used to compute non-GAAP diluted net income per share was increased by $3 million for after-tax interest expense on our convertible senior notes in accordance with the if-converted method.

(2) We utilize a fixed long-term projected tax rate in our computation of the non-GAAP income tax provision to provide better consistency across the reporting periods. For fiscal 2024 and 2023, the non-GAAP tax rate was 19%. For the year ended January 31, 2023, included in the per share amount was a dilution impact of $0.09 from the conversion of GAAP diluted net loss per share to non-GAAP diluted net income per share.

Reconciliation of our GAAP cash flows from operating activities to non-GAAP free cash flow is as follows (in millions). See the section titled "About Non-GAAP Financial Measures" below for further details.

About Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To provide investors and others with additional information regarding Workday's results, we have disclosed the following non-GAAP financial measures: non-GAAP operating income (loss), non-GAAP operating margin, non-GAAP net income (loss) per share, and free cash flows. Workday has provided a reconciliation of each non-GAAP financial measure used in this earnings release to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure. Non-GAAP operating income (loss) and non-GAAP operating margin differ from GAAP in that they exclude share-based compensation expenses, employer payroll tax-related items on employee stock transactions, and amortization expense for acquisition-related intangible assets. Non-GAAP net income (loss) per share differs from GAAP in that it excludes share-based compensation expenses, employer payroll tax-related items on employee stock transactions, amortization expense for acquisition-related intangible assets, and income tax effects. Free cash flows differ from GAAP cash flows from operating activities in that it treats total capital expenditures as a reduction to cash flows.

Workday's management uses these non-GAAP financial measures to understand and compare operating results across accounting periods, for internal budgeting and forecasting purposes, for short- and long-term operating plans, and to evaluate Workday's financial performance. Management believes these non-GAAP financial measures reflect Workday's ongoing business in a manner that allows for meaningful period-to-period comparisons and analysis of trends in Workday's business. Management also believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating Workday's operating results and prospects in the same manner as management and in comparing financial results across accounting periods and to those of peer companies.

Management believes excluding the following items from the GAAP Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations is useful to investors and others in assessing Workday's operating performance due to the following factors:

- Share-based compensation expenses. Although share-based compensation is an important aspect of the compensation of our employees and executives, management believes it is useful to exclude share-based compensation expenses to better understand the long-term performance of our core business and to facilitate comparison of our results to those of peer companies. Share-based compensation expenses are determined using a number of factors, including our stock price, volatility, and forfeiture rates, that are beyond our control and generally unrelated to operational decisions and performance in any particular period. Further, share-based compensation expenses are not reflective of the value ultimately received by the grant recipients.
- Employer payroll tax-related items on employee stock transactions We exclude the employer payroll tax-related items on employee stock transactions in order to show the full effect that excluding share-based compensation expenses has on our operating results. Similar to share-based compensation expenses, this tax expense is dependent on our stock price and other factors that are beyond our control and do not correlate to the operation of the business.

- Amortization of acquisition-related intangible assets For business combinations, we generally allocate a portion of the purchase price to intangible assets. The amount of the allocation is based on estimates and assumptions made by management and is subject to amortization. The amount of purchase price allocated to intangible assets and the term of the related amortization can vary significantly and are unique to each acquisition and thus we do not believe it is reflective of ongoing operations. Although we exclude the amortization of acquisition-related intangible assets from these non-GAAP measures, management believes that it is important for investors to understand that such intangible assets were recorded as part of purchase accounting and contribute to revenue generation.
- Income tax effects. We utilize a fixed long-term projected tax rate in our computation of the non-GAAP income tax provision to provide better consistency across the reporting periods. In projecting this long-term non-GAAP tax rate, we utilize a three-year financial projection that excludes the direct impact of share-based compensation and related employer payroll taxes, and amortization of acquisition-related intangible assets. The projected rate considers other factors such as our current operating structure, existing tax positions in various jurisdictions, and key legislation in major jurisdictions where we operate. For fiscal 2025 and 2024, we determined the projected non-GAAP tax rate to be 19%, which reflects currently available information, as well as other factors and assumptions. We will periodically re-evaluate this tax rate, as necessary, for significant events, relevant tax law changes, material changes in the forecasted geographic earnings mix, and any significant acquisitions.

Additionally, with regards to free cash flows, Workday's management believes that reducing cash provided by (used in) operating activities by capital expenditures is meaningful to investors and others because it provides an enhanced view of cash flow generation from the ongoing operations of our business, and it balances operating results, cash management, and capital efficiency.

The use of the non-GAAP measures of non-GAAP operating income (loss), non-GAAP operating margin, non-GAAP net income (loss) per share, and free cash flows have certain limitations as they do not reflect all items of expense or cash that affect Workday's operations. Workday compensates for these limitations by reconciling the non-GAAP financial measures to the most comparable GAAP financial measures. These non-GAAP financial measures should be considered in addition to, not as a substitute for or in isolation from, measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. Further, these non-GAAP measures may differ from the non-GAAP information used by other companies, including peer companies, and therefore comparability may be limited. Management encourages investors and others to review Workday's financial information in its entirety and not rely on a single financial measure.
