Workday Enterprise Management Cloud delivers an adaptable architecture that unites service-centric organizations' ecosystems to bring financial, worker, and operational data together to deliver granular insight in a single system of record. With artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML) embedded in this architecture, Workday Financial Management, Workday Human Capital Management \(HCM\), Workday Adaptive Planning, Workday Accounting Center, Workday Prism Analytics, and Workday Spend Management intelligently augment workers by automating business and financial processes to help organizations work in new ways and realize the full potential of their most valuable asset – their people.

“Workday is the only cloud-native ERP platform specifically designed for service-centric organizations to manage their money and people together in one, unified system,” said Terrance Wampler, group general manager, office of the CFO, Workday. “With a single source of truth for your finance and people data and an adaptable architecture with AI and ML at the core, Workday customers across industries gain a better understanding of what drives profitability at the most granular level, enabling them to pivot quickly to meet the needs of their business.”

Unlocking the Potential of People, Processes, and Data

With more than 10,000 customers across 175 countries, Workday continues to execute effectively for customers and deliver innovative solutions that help service-centric enterprises adapt and thrive in the changing world of work.

With Workday, organizations can:

- Embrace business agility at speed and scale with an architecture that the business owns, minimizing reliance on IT.
- Interoperate with existing technology ecosystems across a wide range of industries and easily extend Workday with low or no code technology, while maintaining the same level of security.
- Surface more granular insights into profitability and performance directly in the system of record to drive confident decisions from a trusted source of truth that unites finance, human resources, and operational data.
- Empower employees with more meaningful work by moving from manual entry and correction to touchless processing with AI and ML embedded into core processes.
- Gain valuable insight into workforce skills, enabling teams to understand gaps, determine which skills they need today and in the future, and identify opportunities for redeployment.
